RE: CNRR Changes to Storage Charge Application for Domestic and International Steamship Traffic

To Our Valued Customers:

The Canadian National Railroad (CNRR) has advised the following changes effective on September 1, 2003:

Loaded storage charges for International Steamship traffic will increase from $50 to $75 at all terminals, including U.S. facilities, effective September 1, 2003. This increased rate has already been in effect for all Canadian facilities since July 30, 2003.

In addition, for all domestic traffic, effective September 1, 2003, CNRR will provide three (3) free days of storage time. Once free time has expired, the charge will be $25 per day. Please note, Saturday, Sunday, and holidays will no longer be considered free. Charges will apply on those days if the terminal is open.

Please communicate this notice to all appropriate parties. If you have any questions regarding this announcement, please contact your local Pacer Stacktrain representative.
