RE: Revisions to Oakland Embargo, Monday, May 17, 2004

All Concerned:

Revisions to Oakland Embargo, Monday, May 17, 2004:

Effective Monday, May 17, 2004, the UPRR partially lifted their Oakland Facilities Embargo.

ALL WESTBOUND volume destined to Oakland, CA can be billed without restriction. This includes all interline volume originating on connecting railroads.

The only remaining restriction, is the continued Embargo of EASTBOUND volume originating at the UPRR Oakland, Ca Facility, which will still be governed by the Permit Allocation System currently in place until railcar assets are sufficiently in place to support such volume.

If you have specific questions, please direct them to your local Customer Service Representative.

Thank - you for your continued patience.
