Re: Temperature Sensitive Shipment Advisory

Dear Valued Customer:

During the winter, our containers travel through some extremely cold conditions; much like over-the-road trucks, rail boxcars, and most other types of freight transportation modes.

The U.S. rail network has been significantly handicapped by several winter weather events, and winter is far from over. More severe weather and frigid temperatures are to be expected.

It is important to note that Pacer Stacktrain does not accept any liability for any temperature-related damages. Our containers are not equipped to protect cargo from freezing or other temperature-related damages. Our complete policy is outlined in section 6.5 of our Rules and Procedures portion of the Pacer Stacktrain Information Directory. The entire document may be viewed or downloaded from our website. Just go to the Rules, Procedures, and Additional forms section at:
www.pacerstack.com/services/rules_notlogged_download.html .

This policy applies to all cargo, including wine, canned food, and similar items.

At Pacer Stacktrain, we want to be sure that you are fully aware of our value and our limitations when making your routing decisions. Please contact your Customer Support Representative with any questions or requests for assistance.

We appreciate your business.
