RE: UPRR and CSX Storage Rates Change

Dear Valued Customer,

As part of continuing efforts to improve equipment availability and service, the UPRR and CSX have announced that they are significantly changing their storage rates and policies, effective May 1, 2005. This affects both Pacer Stacktrain and our customers. Here are the key details of the changes...

The UPRR storage rates are changing: Ramp storage free time will be based on Day of Notify plus 48 hours (which is reduced from 72 hours.) And the new rates are:

	Current Daily Rate	New Daily Rate (eff 5/1/05)
Days 1-5	$50.00	$100.00
Days 6-10	$150.00	$150.00
Days 11+	$150.00	$300.00

The UPRR notify clock is changing from 12:01AM (midnight) to 5:00PM on the day of notification. So, if notification occurs before 5:00PM, notification will be the same day. If notification occurs after 5:00PM, the day of notification is the next day.

The UPRR Holidays have been reduced by removing Good Friday, the day after Thanksgiving and President's Day from the list of free days.

The UPRR Weekend clock calculation is changing, as Saturdays will now be included in the computation of free time and will be chargeable.

The CSX storage rates are changing, and the timeframe (number of days that the rate applies to) is changing too. The new CSX application will be:

Current Days and Rates		New Days and Rates (eff 5/1/05)
Days 1-15	$75.00	Days 1-10	$75.00
Days 16+	$100.00	Days 11+	$200.00

Please be sure to note these changes and pass this information along to your BCOs, drayage partners, and all affected individuals within your organization.

To serve our customers, Pacer Stacktrain absorbs storage charges when we have the responsibility for a bad order chassis or container, a chassis shortage situation, misroutes, and billing errors. However, when no extenuating circumstances are present, we must apply the charges and policies of the underlying rail carriers.
